CALL FOR PAPERS
Paul C. Wilt Fall 2011 Lecture
Monday, October 24th 7pm
Hieronymous Lounge in Kerrwood Hall

JUNE 24, 2011. The Westmont Chapter of The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi invites the faculty to submit proposals for the Paul C. Wilt Fall Lecture. All full-time faculty are eligible. Lecture proposals must be received by 5:00PM Monday August 1st, are strictly limited to one page in an MS-Word document (email to newton@westmont.edu), and should succinctly include the following:

- Title of the Lecture
- Maximum 250-word abstract of the lecture content
- Proposed 1st respondent, must be faculty member from the same department
- Proposed 2nd respondent, faculty member from another department

The lecture is 45 minutes, followed by two respondents of 7 minutes each. The faculty presenter receives a stipend of $500. Each of the two faculty respondents receives a stipend of $100.

The abstract should describe specifically how the topic constitutes an original contribution to the faculty member’s field of study. It should clearly reflect the faculty member’s desire to speak beyond his/her discipline to the entire Westmont academic community, with interdisciplinary application to the college as an academy of scholars in both the historic liberal arts and Christian traditions. It should include a definitive rationale as to why this topic is relevant at this time, and why it will be of particular interest to the Westmont faculty, students, staff, and the public. The PKP executive committee will make its selection based on the strength of the topic/abstract, and a desire to balance contributions from a range of faculty – based on academic divisions and time of service to the college. Other inquiries should be directed to David Newton, Chapter President.

The Call for Papers regarding the Spring-2012 lecture will be released later in the Fall semester.
