Ray, here is a GE submission form for the spring 2009 course that is now being offered as RS-131W: Seminar in Theology (Theological Interpretation). I understand that it would receive a new number as Theological Interpretation. If I need to supply more information than is on the form, just let me know.

The syllabus is here: http://www.westmont.edu/~work/classes/rs131/spr2009/index.html -- the relevant pages will be the Course, Tasks, Readings (these are still provisional), and perhaps the Vision page. These pages are linked from the right of that page. The Course page presumptuously says that the course meets the Integrating the Major Discipline requirement; I will of course only include it (and will change the number of the course) if the committee accepts my application.

Thank you! Grace and peace, Telford
