SUPPLEMENTAL QUESTIONS: DIRECTOR OF THE CENTER FOR LEADERSHIP AND LEARNING

All employees of Westmont College are part of an active community who individually and collectively are expected to fully support the College’s mission and objectives. Please read the following summary of our mission and respond to the questions below.

Westmont is a Christian college of liberal arts and sciences relating our entire philosophy and program to the historic, evangelical Christian faith. Our mission is to provide a quality undergraduate liberal arts program in a residential campus community that assists college men and women towards a balance of rigorous intellectual competence, healthy personal development, and strong Christian commitments.

THESE QUESTIONS REPLACE THOSE FOUND ON THE WESTMONT APPLICATION

1. What is your vision for leadership development in a Christian liberal arts college?

2. What learning outcomes would you desire for students who undertake leadership roles on campus? What strategies would you use to achieve those outcomes? If you have specific experiences to amplify your answer, please include them.

3. The Center for Leadership and Learning seeks to cultivate leadership qualities in many more students that those who have formal roles. What strategies would you use to reach other students? If you have specific experiences to amplify your answer, please include them.

4. Westmont places a high value on creating a redemptive community that reflects diversity—diversity of thought, of culture, of background, etc.—so that our students are not just exposed to this diversity but are also capable of successfully engaging in and contributing to a world that is now and is becoming increasingly more diverse. Describe any ways in which you see yourself as being able to contribute to this effort to assist our students as the Director for Leadership and Learning and any of the ways in which you’ve learned to successfully engage yourself in this way?
