STORIES OF SUCCESS

At Westmont, Caylie Cox '21 adventured through the British Isles on England Semester, worked in Writers' Corner, and completed a Major Honors Project. She was accepted on the strength of this writing sample into Texas Christian University's Rhetoric and Composition Ph.D. program, where she received a fellowship and an extra grant for academic achievement. She now researches writing as storytelling while teaching first-year Composition at TCU. Caylie's Westmont education prepared her well not only for the academic rigor of graduate school but also for keeping her faith strong in any context.
