STAYING WARM

Being warm to our students is critical to their resilience. But what exactly is warmth?

WARMTH includes:

- Frequent affection, approval, and encouragement. Examples include: Saying "I love you," giving hugs, praising their qualities & character, and speaking in a friendly tone.
- Maintaining a healthy relationship. Ask them about the things that interest them. Disclose some of your interests. Talk openly & positively. Do activities you both enjoy.
- Support and sensitivity. Respond to their needs, appreciate their ideas, help them problem solve, and show understanding. Allow them to have their own opinions!
